HOME INDUSTRY
FOR HOLLAND

QUEEN OF NETHERLANDS HELPS
THE MOVEMENT TO PRO-MOTE BUSINESS

(By Associated Press.)
THE HAGUE, Netherlands, June 15.—Native industry is more and more coming into its own in Holland in consequence of the restricted supplies from belligerent countries and especially Germany. The latest scheme adopted with a view to furthering it is a "Netherlands shopping week," when participating storekeepers display exclusively Dutch-made goods in their windows. In The Hague, for instance, 540 stores, distributed over 140 streets, have put the idea into execution, and Queen Wilhelmina is extending her support by a visit of inspection to several of the leading establishments.

INDIAN MOTHERS
FIND BOYS' BODIES

MYSTERY SURROUNDING DISAPPEARANCE OF TWO PIUTE CHILDREN SOLVED.

The dead bodies of Willie Sioux and Raymond Dave, the two Indian boys who disappeared last Wednesday, were found buried in the gravel pit near the stock yards. Ever since the disappearance of the boys Indians have been searching for them and last evening the mothers of the boys, Jennie Hardy and Maggie Dave, who were accompanied by Golconda Mamie, followed what they believed to be the boys' tracks to the gravel pit. They noticed a swarm of flies buzzing around a certain place and a stench assailed their nostrils. They began to dig away the loose earth and found the bodies of the boys cold in death. Evidently the boys had been digging into the loose gravel when the high bank caved.

Both boys were born in Winnemucca. Willie Sioux was about 14 years of age and a son of May Sioux; Raymond Dave was about 9 years old and a son of Maggie Dave.

FLAG DAY CELEBRATION
AT THE ELKS' HOME

PATRIOTIC EXERCISES ATTENDED BY A REPRESENTATIVE AUDIENCE LAST EVENING

Flag Day was appropriately celebrated last night at the Elks Home with a program that was listened to by an audience representing every class of citizenship. The hall was beautifully decorated with national banners and the colors of the nation intertwined hanging in festoons from the ceiling and walls. The feature was the ritual of the order provided for the day, which has been made one of the fixed events in Elks circles. The address, on the significance of the day, was rendered by William Forman, who entertained his audience with a highly instructive dissertation on the history of the banner and the lessons conveyed by its stars and stripes.

The musical program included numbers by Mrs. A. Neth, J. Goldsmith, F. Z. Ethier, Prof. Kanouse, William Walker, Mrs. J. L. Simmons and Mrs. J. Rauch. The history of the flag was read by Emil Elker, esteemed lecturing knight. Fred Penn, exalted ruler, presided. The success of the celebration was due largely to the efforts of the committee, consisting of A. H. Keenan, chairman; Julius Garner and N. K. Franklin.

POPULAR COUPLE
JOINED IN WEDLOCK

NUPTIALS CELEBRATED IN NEWLY FURNISHED HOME

Leon Kind of the firm of Kind & Co., one of the oldest clothing firms in Tonopah, was married last night to Miss Nettie Harris, formerly of the staff of the Tonopah schools. The ceremony was performed by Justice Dunsen at the home prepared by the bridegroom. A wedding supper followed the event. The couple will be at home on Central avenue until next month, when they will enjoy a honeymoon tour.

Mr. Leon Kind comes from one of the oldest and most esteemed families of Central Nevada, first making his home in Eureka, Nevada, and coming to Tonopah as one of the first merchants and has conducted one of the leading stores ever since. The bride is a Tonopah girl who is much admired for her beauty and talents. She is a graduate of the Tonopah high school and also a graduate of the normal class conducted in this city two years ago. She completed the school term here as one of the staff of teachers and declined reappointment in view of the present marital engagement, which has been preserved as a close secret until the announcement appeared recently in the Bonanza.

SENATOR JAMES

and orphans, an army of cripples and men broken in health, an army of pensioners, and an army of the collectors gathering up the earnings of the people to pay the great war debt.

"The president has acted quickly," the senator said, "when there was an invasion of American territory and the American expedition now was doing all that this country could do with honor in Mexico."

"No president in the life of this republic," said the senator, has ever had to deal with so many delicate and dangerous problems as those which have confronted President Wilson. With more than half of the world in arms in Europe, with Mexico's revolution at our border, the most difficult and complicated problems have confronted him almost daily, and he has handled them as becomes a patriot and a statesman. When the Lusitania was sunk the militant voice of Theodore Roosevelt cried out for war and if he had been president of the United States today five hundred thousand brave American sons would be contending around the forts of Verdun in this mighty maelstrom of blood—thousands would have been buried in ditches. Our present, patient, patriotic, far-sighted, the real statesman, handled this question with the greatest ability, and won for America its greatest diplomatic victory.

"There are happily two kinds of courage, the courage of the man who is willing to undertake the dangers himself, and the courage of the man that sends others to the conflict. Woodrow Wilson has both."

EATING CROW
FOR THE FAT

(By Associated Press.)

FRANKFORT, Germany, June 1.—(Correspondent of the Associated Press.)—From experiences in the field in Russia, Dr. Adolf Schnee is convinced, and has suggested to the German government, that young crows are a tasty and valuable source of food, and that the old, tough birds that follow the armies by the tens of thousands are a plentiful source of fat that can be used in making soap if not in preparing food for human beings.

Dr. Schnee suggests therefore that crow hunting be begun systematically after the government has been convinced of the correctness of his views, and after experts have determined just how crow fat can be purified, and to just what purposes it can be put after being adulterated or added to other and scarcer fats.

During the months of May, June and July, Dr. Schnee says, the young "seed crows" are practically plentiful and tender. In the three months following the same birds, or still older ones, abound more than at any other time in fat.

Under the skin of each bird, he has found, there are layers of fat of a particularly desirable character—which is much used by the Russian peasants. In addition the organs of the birds are surrounded by fat which differs merely in color and smell from the fat of other animals that is regularly used.

From a full grown crow there can be obtained, he says, from 80 to 150 grams of fat, or an average perhaps of 100 kilograms from every 100 birds. Put through the ordinary processes, this yields some seven or eight kilograms of lard which is much in use in Russian peasant circles.

Even the meat of the old crows is edible, says Dr. Schnee, if it is put through a pickling process of some four to six weeks with onions, and then served with a kind of cabbage. In taste it is similar to pickled wild boar. Dr. Schnee suggests the creation of hunting parties chosen by the government to patrol behind the lines in the east, sending back to experts the crows they shoot to be "de-fatted" and pickled.

IMPROVING THE DANUBE

(By Associated Press.)

BUDAPEST, Hungary, June 15.—The authorities of all the principal cities on the Danube have arranged for the holding of a conference here next month to consider the possibilities of navigation on the river.

kinds of courage—the courage of conflict and the courage to act coolly and sensibly when he is dealing with the lives of others—the fate of a nation.

"Four years ago they sneeringly called Woodrow Wilson the school teacher. Today he is the world teacher. His subject is the protection of American life and American rights under international law. And without orphaning a single American child, without wounding a single American mother, without firing a single gun, he wrung from the most militant spirit that ever brooded above a battlefield an acknowledgment of American rights and an agreement to American demands. He has elevated himself to that lofty but lowly eminence, occupied by George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson—the three worst abused and best-loved Americans the republic ever grew."

Some Economies of Cooking by Wire
An item of saving in connection with electric cooking lies in the elimination of matches. Then, too, the hazard of fire is absolutely removed. Explosions and asphyxiation cannot happen. There is no flame, no smoke, no soot. The walls and ceiling of the kitchen are immune. It is also obvious that the electric range itself is much more easily cleaned and kept in perfect order. In like manner the cooking utensils are kept clean with little

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

The program at the Butler this evening will consist of Pathe Weekly and a five-reel Mutual Masterpiece, featuring the eminent actor, Burr McIntosh, who, in his long and notable stage career as a stage favorite, has never appeared to better advantage than he does as "Joe" in the beautiful heart-interest story of "My Partner," which is one of the most popular dramas ever presented upon the American stage.

His friendship for his pard, Ned, which even stands the supreme test of seeing the woman he loves won away from him by his friend—his suffering when he discovers his friend's tragic death—his pathetic appeal when he is accused of the crime, which finds expression in the simple but heart-rending words, "He was my pard," and many soul-stirring incidents through which his noble character is revealed, stamp the role of "Joe" indelibly in the minds of all who have seen the drama, and make the motion picture production of Burr McIntosh in "My Partner," a veritable classic of the silent drama. On account of not being able to use the Burton Holmes Travel picture on Tuesday, it will be added to tonight's program. It shows a trip up and down the Pang river, in the Philippines.

Tomorrow a Frank Daniels comedy and "The Hunted Woman," a Vitaphone Blue Ribbon feature.

Every housewife knows that if a plant or flower is kept in a room where gas is used it will certainly wither. Yet a plant may stand on the electric stove for months without showing any deterioration in growth or appearance.

An atmosphere of cleanliness and health, together with the absence of all irritating fumes, makes the electric range the ideal one for cooking.
